Journey to the Center of the Uterus™
More Chances to Experience this "Truly Funny, Inspirational Show" Not to be Missed

October 5, 2009 – Chicago, IL – Kathleen Puls Andrade's Midwest Premiere of Journey to the Center of the Uterus™: Adventures Infertility! has announced additional Saturday evening and Sunday matinée performances through October 18.

Journey to the Center of the Uterus-a hilariously fertile new comedy! This original show takes you on a roller coaster ride through the fertility fray with wacky doctors, "supportive" friends who declare "you'd get pregnant if you weren't so fat!", adventures in the "special man room", and so much more. Using fun characters, animation, interviews with men and women from 35 to 85, and funny inventive music, the show aims to make the audience laugh while giving them perspective on the whole conception conundrum. This universally appealing show will make both men and women laugh, gasp, and think...without making the men feel squirmy.

Helping to bring Kathleen's Journey to life is the skillful direction and brilliant animation of award winning actor and director, Andrew Eninger, and the award winning and talented composer, Marshall Stern, who crafted funny and original songs for the show.
